ABOUT THE BOULDER PHIL

The Boulder Phil is creating a new model for American orchestras through dynamic performances that reflect our community’s own values, creativity, and sense of place. As one of Colorado’s premier professional ensembles, we are bucking national trends with growing, enthusiastic audiences under the vision and leadership of Music Director Michael Buttermann. As evidence of the orchestra’s growing artistic reputation, we are honored by our recent selection as one of four ensembles set to perform at the Kennedy Center in Washington at the inaugural SHIFT festival in 2017. The artistic quality, innovative programming and collaborative depth that are the hallmarks of a Boulder Phil season position us as a real cultural gem in Colorado’s crown!
